DEPENDS ON THE POINT OF VIEW

In the Northwest we think that the great question is to get our goods to the world's markets by the most feasible routes at the lowest rates. We think that a cent saved in the expense of getting our products to the consumer who pays for them, is clear gain. If we get the saving the wealth of the country is increased to that extent. If the consumer gets it our advantage in his market is increased proportionately. We can scarcely understand how any one can look at the matter differently, but there are some who do. Our old friend J. H. Threlkeld has been giving in the La Patrie his opinions on this subject. He thinks that the effort to secure cheaper transport to the sea for Northwest grain is unbusinesslike and unpatriotic. He bases his remarks on the differences of Mr. Greenway, late premier of Manitoba, who has recently spoken favorably of the advantage of competition in grain carrying to the Great Lakes and to Minneapolis by the Great Northern and Northern Pacific railways. In so far as the La Patrie has spoken favorably of the case to such outlets it has fallen under the ban of La Patrie. He regrets the attitude of the Free Press and says it is an anti-Canadian and anti-national policy. He accuses the Free Press of cultivating local prejudices and in the next paragraph declares that his objections are based on the fact that Montreal, Three Rivers and St. John will lose the trade. This is surely a case of pandering to local prejudices if ever there was one. From the tone of La Patrie's article it is apparent that in the mind of the writer the men whose enterprise and tact produced the wheat is not deemed to be considered in the cost of getting it to market. It is indeed for ungrateful Western Canada that the editor of La Patrie is no longer a directing force in the policy of the government of Canada. And in case there are others like-minded with him, it is doubly fortunate that the cost of carriage of western products to the sea board does not depend altogether on whether Montreal, Three Rivers and St. John are looking after the improvement of their harbor facilities or not. The United States railways are running and U. S. freight rates are grinding. And if at a time when Canadian transportation facilities have absolutely broken down, they are prepared to handle Canadian produce effectively, and at reasonable rates to the same ultimate market there is no reason from the standpoint of Canadian patriotism why they should not do so, and every reason why they should. The idea that Canadian wheat should not be in the stacks or in the fields until Canadian railways get ready to haul it, and Canadian ports get ready to handle it, is a grotesque form of a western policy of view as to be impossible of adequate description. If La Patrie would urge the business men and capitalists of Montreal, Three Rivers and St. John to make one-tenth part of the exertion and take the hundredth part of the business risk to improve their transportation facilities and ports that has been taken by the western carrier to produce the wheat which is the cause of all the contention it would indeed be engaged in a patriotic work. But its idea seems to be that true patriotism should not only do for Montreal, Three Rivers and St. John at the country's expense what cities in other countries similarly situated do for themselves but that the country should stand still until the work has been done. This may be all right from an eastern point of view but looked at from the west it seems a strange.

STRATHCONA

Maindealer, Jan. 16.

Manager Hawthorne, of the Shamrock rink, announces a masquerade carnival for next Thursday evening.

R. T. Purvis has sold his residence in Strathcona to J. W. Wallace and left this week with his family for Leduc where he will reside in future.

Ritchie's mill resumed grinding on Monday last after nearly two months' silence on account of the fire which came so near demolishing the whole plant.

W. T. Henry, of Edmonton, has purchased Geo. R. Ball's farm in the Salisbury settlement. Mr. Ball has bought R. Burgess' farm in the same settlement. Mr. Burgess expects to return to England in the spring.

There are several changes this week in the staff at the C. & E. station. E. Mercer has succeeded E. Murphy as operator, George Horner succeeds G. T. Jackson as ticket agent and S. Coleleigh has been transferred to this point from Calgary.

J. McMillan, inspector of C.P.R. telegraphs for the western division, spent a short time in Strathcona (the beginning of this week on official business. Mr. McMillan states that the company's new copper wire on the C. & E. line is being replaced at the rate of fifteen miles per day and will be here within a week. He expects to arrange for a town office for commercial and press business exclusively.

Parties in from Vegreville report that on Friday last a section by the name of Anderson, a Dane from Dakota, was found dead in his shack on his claim in that district. It is supposed that heart disease was the cause of death. The deceased lived alone and had a fine yoke of oxen and a fair outfit of farm implements and provisions. Evidently death occurred a week or more before the corpse was found, as the oxen were found in a very emaciated condition from hunger, in fact almost dead.

Why Coal is Free in the States.

The report of the committee submitted to the United States House of Representatives by Chairman Payne, after recommending the passage of the bill, says: "This is an emergency measure. Precedents for such legislation are found in the Chicago fire and the fire at Bangor, Maine. In these cases congress related the duty on lumber used in re-building the burned districts. Whether legislation will increase the importations or reduce the price of coal is a question on which men differ, but it is all congress can do in the premises and will satisfy the demand of many of our citizens. While there is a threatened coal famine in any part of the country, we cannot turn a deaf ear to the cry of the people.

The committee did not consider it best to make any changes in the tariff on coal, after the period of one year had expired, preferring to bring in this as a purely emergency measure, and not desiring to go into the question of tariff revision, even upon this one article. If any relief can come to the people from such legislation, it will be amply secured in the period provided for in the bill."

The Right to Live Enforced

Tulsa, Ok., Jan. 13.—A special to the Times, from Bellevue, Ohio, to-night, says: "The fuel situation in Bellevue to-day reached an acute stage and a conference of the mayor, councilmen and coal dealers was held. It was learned that there were eight cars of anthracite coal and several of soft coal in the local yards of the Wheeling and Lake Erie railroad and it was decided to confiscate the contents.

The fire bell was rung and the mayor and councilmen followed by a small army of citizens armed with shovels marched to the railway yards and unloaded the cars in record-breaking time. The mayor issued orders with the village seal and the coal was distributed through the local dealers at the rate of $8 a ton.

St. Louis, Mo., Jan. 13.—A special from Tuscola, Ill., says: About 200 citizens of this city confiscated ten car loads of coal at the Illinois Central yards yesterday, and it was distributed among the sufferers who are out of fuel. There is not a pound of coal in any of the coal yards and when the people saw the loaded cars sidetracked here they determined to relieve the situation to some extent. Mayor Roberts threw no obstacles in the way, and the board of health passed a resolution stating it was for the preservation of the health of the people.

Business men and bankers and prominent citizens joined in the raid, but the coal seized was paid for, a committee being appointed to collect the money and hold it for the railroad company.

Bank of Commerce

At the annual meeting of the Bank of Commerce held recently in Toronto the report showed that the net profits of the year amounted to $1,423,562.76, and the year ending 1919-20, and after paying a 7 per cent. dividend and expending over $5,000 on bank premises and $15,000 on a pension fund, $500,000 has been transferred to the reserve account.

Boys' Clothing

That Interests Parents.

Every parent knows just how hard his boy is on clothes and we add that few fathers or mothers in reality care if their boys are a little rough in their play and clothes don't wear quite so long as they may have at first expected, for no right minded person likes an effeminate boy, for it is the sturdy, rough and ready little fellows who develop into the most useful class of Canadian citizenship. Our caution is—don't pay too much for boys' clothes, but get them good clothes at a fair price from a reputable firm which does not hesitate to replace with a new suit any which does not wear well. Now that the school season has opened again, the boy may need a new suit, nor can you make more advantageous investment than by the saving you make for these necessities at

Fruit in Manitoba

The following is from a paper, read before the Western Horticultural society by S. A. Bedford, of the government experimental farm, at Brandon, Man.

Plums

The prospect for the successful cultivation in Manitoba of a really good plum is, I regret to say, not by any means as promising as in the case of the apple, the greatest drawback, apparently being the shortness of the season, there not being sufficient time for the fruit to ripen. Between the years 1888 and 1893 forty varieties of standard plums were tested, and at the present day none of these survive. The material to which we have now been reduced for experimental work is the wild plum of America, (Prunus americana) and the Manitoba wild plum (Prunus nigra). A large number of seedlings of the following named varieties of Prunus americana have been tested at the experimental farm; Cherry, Hungarian, De Soto, Yosemite, Purple and Alaska. These have generally proven quite hardy and many of them have fruited, last season a very large crop of ripe fruit being harvested. A wonderful variation was noticeable, as many as eighty-four distinct types being noted and recorded. Among these were some very fine fruit well worthy of propagation, but it is open to question whether they are to be recommended for general cultivation, as like their parents, they are too late in ripening, except in especially open seasons like 1901. The most promising of these are Alkon, Cherry, Weaver and Hungarian. It seems probable that for permanent success we will have to confine ourselves to improvement by selection of our native plum (Prunus nigra). In its wild state this fruit always very great variation, some of fair size and good flavor, others quite small and stringent. This variation argues great possibilities by careful and continued selection and at present we are working along these lines, having quite a number of very promising seedlings under trial. One of these named Brandon Ruby is remarkably early, ripening its fruit in early August, in size the fruit is small but thin skinned and of a pleasant flavor. The best of these trees will be selected for trial.

Cherries

Sixteen varieties of cherries have been tested at the farm, with the addition of 130 seedlings from named varieties. None of these have proven hardy and our list is now reduced to two, viz. the Sand Cherry (Prunus pennsylvanica) and the Rupert Cherry, a cross between the Sand Cherry and the p. am. The latter is of upright habit, and so far has been hardy here, though not yet fruited. The Sand Cherry (Prunus pennsylvanica) is subject to great improvement by selection, and we have on hand a quantity of selected bushes, which produce a much finer fruit, both in size and flavor, than the average plant. The habit of the plant is upright and bushy and is extremely productive, the fruit being produced in dense clusters. The flavor of the improved varieties is fairly sweet and juicy, and may possibly be evolved into a very useful fruit.

Raspberries

Provided that a good situation can be obtained, there is no doubt that nearly all the varieties of this fruit will do well in Manitoba. There are now forty varieties under test at the experimental farm, including Black Cape, Asa, and the various varieties of the fruit, a gentle slope to the south is undoubtedly preferable to any other, as when planted thus they do not suffer from the sharp rays of the sun, which is especially detrimental in the early spring. For some years past we have adopted the plan of laying down the canes and covering the tips with soil thrown over with a plough. The data from this experiment has not yet been sufficient to warrant the general adoption of this plan, and it is still in contemplation. As the red varieties are now being given the best adaptation, as to hardiness, Cuthbert, Tanager, Philadelphia, Dr. Roder and Asa, and Caroline are by far the best, promising, and in Black Cape, which is undoubtedly the hardiest.

Currants

Up to the spring of 1902, these were represented on the farm by forty-six varieties of red, white and black currants, and in addition to forty-two varieties were made during the spring of 1902, making a total of ninety-two varieties. Most of the red and white varieties are hardy under almost any conditions, but the black appear to be of a somewhat more tender nature and greater care must be exercised in the selection of varieties of the reds the following have proven the most satisfactory, Ruby Castle, Pay's Malack and Cherry Red. The first mentioned is a vigorous grower, and extremely productive, although inches and berries are somewhat all. Pay's Malack, although not an abundant bearer, is of an exceptionally large size, and makes an exhibition variety. Cherry Red is to be midway between the reds, having larger sized berries than Ruby Castle, though considerably those of Pay's Malack, and is not so productive as Ruby Castle. Of the white varieties, White Grape and White Dutch are the only two which have yet fruited. Both are very productive and quite hardy. In the black section, Chama, Black, Champion, Lee's Profit and Stewart have proven to be the hardiest of all varieties which have been thoroughly tested. All of these are moderately productive, and can be recommended for general cultivation in Manitoba.

Missouri Tree Currants (Crandall's Black)

I would call your attention specially to this variety. The bushes are quite tall, exceeding the height of the ordinary currant by about three feet. It is thoroughly hardy and invariably produces a good crop of fruit which, however, ripens somewhat unevenly. This is fully twice, and is often three times the size of the average black currant, and makes a splendid preserve. There was a magnificent sample exhibited at your horticultural show last August, which many of you will remember, and which drew forth many expressions of admiration. I would highly recommend this for general cultivation throughout the province.

Gooseberries

The gooseberry has grown to be one of the most difficult of small fruits to grow successfully at the experimental farm. Thirty-two varieties have been experimented with here and nearly all have succumbed to the severity of our winter. Of the small-fruited varieties the following have given the best results; Native gooseberry (called by us Sand Hill), Smith's Improved and Houghton. The first mentioned was received from the Sand Hills, southeast of Brandon, and is a much better fruit, both in size and flavor, than the average native. Smith's Improved is evidently an improved native form, being somewhat larger than the foregoing. Of the large varieties the following, though not perfectly hardy, have produced a small quantity of fruit for the past two or three seasons, Columbus, Red Jacket and Industry, and I am of the opinion that, where the conditions are favorable, these large-fruited varieties would do fairly well.
